Trevor is responsible for developing and executing the Council's policy initiatives on industry and innovation, as well as supporting its international and fiscal policy. He currently leads the annual Total Tax Contribution Survey, as well as initiatives on national pharmacare, data policy, the Corporate Innovator Network and is responsible for several key international relationships.

Prior to joining the Council in 2016, Trevor worked at Global Affairs Canada as a Trade Policy Officer. He was also a Junior Research Fellow with a focus on trade policy at the Asia Pacific Foundation of Canada. He holds a Master of Arts in Asia Pacific Policy Studies from the University of British Columbia and a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations from St. Thomas University, New Brunswick. He has extensive experience with the Asia Pacific region and has lived and worked in Japan with the Japan Exchange and Teaching (JET) Programme. Fluent in Japanese, Trevor is a key resource on Canada-Japan bilateral ties.

À titre de directeur des politiques du Conseil canadien des affaires, Trevor Kennedy appuie les travaux du Conseil sur les enjeux internationaux, commerciaux et fiscaux. Avant de se joindre au Conseil, Trevor a travaillé comme agent de politique commerciale à Affaires mondiales Canada. Il était auparavant apprenti chercheur à la Fondation Asie Pacifique du Canada. Trevor a vécu et travaillé au Japon pendant trois ans dans le cadre du programme Japan Exchange and Teaching (JET), et s'exprime aisément en japonais. Il est titulaire d'une maîtrise en études sur les politiques de l'Asie-Pacifique de l'Université de la Colombie-Britannique et d'un baccalauréat en relations internationales de l'Université St. Thomas, au Nouveau-Brunswick.
